Wilkinson, Eric

Abstract

Eric Wilkinson, retired general manager of the Northern Colorado Water Conservancy District, reviews his lifetime as a water professional. He was exposed to the profession from childhood by his father who was a Cache la Poudre River commissioner. He held jobs in the Dam Safety Branch of the Colorado State Engineer's Office and in the Water and Sewer Department of the City of Greeley, as well as several positions at Northern Water. He talks about accomplishments, challenges, receiving the Aspinall Award, prior appropriation, water storage and conservation, and significant weather events. He ...
